As a UK ape I have got a few gamestop shares in a SIPP, which I don't believe I can DRS (correct me if I'm wrong) and I wonder if any other European apes are in a similar boat. Is it potentially worth creating a bot to capture how many shares are physically not able to be drs'd to close the gap on how many share retail actually own between drs'd and shares not physically able to drs?

Just a thought.
