GME has been dip for a few now, I been holding since last Feb. I'm XXXX holder AND my average is around 200, I haven't got any chance to buy dip since most of my money is already in. I still have some left in crypto, it also been doing really bad laterly.

But you know what, I am not worry about it, I believed at this point, many of you are the same. In next few week we should see the price going back and I'm hoping for a good news. Just leting you know us apes are still holding.

Keep calm and DRS my Apes.
