Is_self: True

I just don't understand at all.

I've watched "Inside Job", a long time ago actually. Way before this GME thing. Probably back when it was released...

I've read all the popular DDs in all the different popular GME subs and I understand that, yes it's a fact that there COULD be a MOASS but I just cannot see it actually happening...

The big banks over many years ago, screwed the world over. For a long time, the heads of these big banks have been in some of the most influential and powerful positions on earth. All because they have the money and money is everything. How is it not ?

They make and break any rules, it's so apparent considering they brake rules and always get away with it. Just a tap on the hand.

Anyways, we all know that...

So big bois at the top, control everything, make all the rules. So what makes all of us "commoners" think that the big bois are just going to let this happen ???

They make the rules! right ??? Then there's all the other rich dudes, don't you think they'd know about this GME thing and MOASS...

How is there not hundreds of millionaires and billionaires, that ARE pretty much following stocks and news revolving around it, not putting their money into this... ???

Russia, China and so on... what the fuck ?

Like... Does everyone really think that a bunch of commoners like us all just going to become millionaires over night ?

Like all of a sudden there's just a bunch new millionaires and billionaires over night. Lots of dumbass kids that I would literally keel IRL just becoming million or even billionaires having a bunch of power.

What makes you think the big bois are just going to let this happen. They have the power to control everything. Sorry I'm repeating myself but I just can't see this happening.

Like just think, there's so much more to think about how this just won't happen and if it does, it won't happen the way people think it is...

I want this to happen, I want this to fucking happen. But it just.. what the fuck ??? This is literally like, unfathomable. It's just, insane! HOW!!!!??!

Like the big bankers are teachers at the top schools of the world (Harvard), they've been in the top political positions (white house). Like what the fuck ?

They change what we are thought, they change what we are exposed to...

I probably sound stupid as fuk. But, I just... how?

And then some people thinking the floor could reach x, which it could, but it's just... so unlikely

Everything is against us, because everything is the people with the power to change everything.

EDIT: and then you also wonder if this is actually orchestrated by the big bois to screw us over, or even gamestop to screw us over.

EDIT 2: like, the big bois in power just have control of everything... they made sure of that by pretty much having a large share in company in existence.. They own soccer teams, etc... just how. How is this just going to happen ? how ?
