My partner just completed this process for the GME shares in their retirement account. We have nothing but good things to say about the process and company.

We personally worked with Kelsey and Synthea. Both have been extremely kind and generous with their time to review and explain things. We had questions and they took the time to explain everything, ensuring we filled everything out correctly as to not delay the process.

My goal as I've stated in my previous post is to post proof in r/superstonk, but I'm way under on the requirements.

Long story short I had way too much personal info on my old account and deleted it not knowing how difficult it is to post with a new account.

Oh well, another lesson learned.

As soon as I'm allowed, I'll (purple)circle back and post our entire holdings: xxxx some DRS'd, some through Mainstar Trust once everything is settled. I'll update on the process as well, so far it's been easy peasy.

Thanks for reading, have an amazing weekend everyone!
