I've bought my first GameStop shares at a broker called Avenue and after the DRS clarification last year I had transferred my shares to IBKR and started my DRS process. Since my first DRS batch I had some money to spare and I did another DRS process through IBKR as well but in this second situation I had some fractions shares which they didn't DRS with the whole shares batch.

So far so good since I am planning to have my Computershare shares to validate de infinity pool theory but! what I found curious was that when I went for my IBKR account today I didn't have my fractional shares, instead I had money. So I was wondering if this happened to anyone else.

I talked to someone who still holds in that Avenue broker that I mentioned and the same happened. There wasn't fractional shares anymore, instead there was cash. What I presume is that it was "forcefully" sold without our consent.

So I ask you if the same has happened to anyone else.

Appreciate your help.
