Hello fellow apes. I'm trying to transfer from IBKR to CS while having an existing account. But according to IBKR DRS transfer to CS will result in them creating a new account at CS. I talked to CS, and they confirmed it, but they would be able to consolidate these accounts once GME shares has been transferred, after the new account have been created, verified and statement letter sent and received... What's that bullshit? Anyone had any luck avoiding that, and DRS'ing directly into an existing account? I have talked to two different agents there, and both say the same shit....? Computershare is really an ancient system..... CS now tells me, that I need to supply the transferring broker (IBKR) an account statement from CS by email so IBKR can move the shares the correct place... So now I'm kinda unsure what would happen once I do that. Anyone here been there and what was your experience?
