From page 22:

"29.1 An "Exceptional Event" includes:

...

(i) excessive changes to the price, supply or demand of any product. We may also call an Exception Event where we anticipate this change (within reason);

...

29.3 If we think, in our reasonable opinion, that an Exceptional Event has occurred or is occurring, **we may** make the following changes to your eToro account without telling you:

...

(c) **close your open transactions at a price that we reasonably think is proportionate**"

That's just one excerpt. There are 12 additional listed reasons why they can screw you and 4 additional ways in which they can do it. But this excerpt alone means they are well within their rights to ensure that your screwing is done to completion.
