I logged into ComputerShare and went to the help center to ask why I can no longer find the "Manage Beneficiaries" option that used to be in the main page and, when I went to put in the GME ticker, GameStop is not showing up in the list. Same with A-M-C. I'll call them today to see what's going on. Just curious if anybody else has noticed either of these two issues (No Longer a Manage Beneficiaries option and the GME ticker no longer populates as an option when sending a question in the help center).
