Ok apes question about stock split for GME. What is the choice here? Somebody tell me what the purpose of having a vote for a split? As soon as it was announced everybody was just so excited for it and to a smoothie brain like me seems like a no brainer. Please somebody give me some reasons not to do it? Because from what has been explained to me it's a win all the way around. So y vote on it? It's like a Company having a vote with employees about giving a huge raise. Y would anybody vote no? Just seems like they should just do it because of the benefits. So I'm asking what is the downfall? If none then just make it happen nobody will fight it.
