Disclaimer: I am a dumb German-Ape so please excuse me, if my wording sucks....

Over the past year the sentiment in all Subs changed a lot from time to time. Sometimes we thought we found the key to MOASS and hyped it up a lot. The next day something completely different was the only way to ignite the rocket and bring GME to where it belongs.

!TODAY IS ONCE AGAIN... A CHANGE IN SENTIMENT!

And I really don't want to say if it is a bad or good one, so please don't instant shill me...

Before the last run in November literally everyone trying to talk about OPTIONS was flooded with downvotes and called a shill instantly. But were those "SHILLS" right the hole time? As a community we need to learn on mistakes we did before.

Too many times we didn't let other Apes explain them selfs and what they found was interesting to them.

Too many times the NOICE in the comments was heard but the DD silenced.

Too many times we made the same mistakes.

NOW IT'S TIME TO LEARN... First of all everybody should watch "Don't look Up", not because it's great or sucks, just to get a feeling of how quickly a huge group of people can change their minds. You can break this one down to our story. Then we should think about this last year and remember when and why we changed our Plan to fuk the hedgies. This is the only thing important to us Apes and all those criminals at WallStreet. Everything that doesn't fall under "THIS IS THE WAY", can be titelt as noice.

I'm just sitting at my desk right now watching GME drop 3-5% at market open as usual and thinking about how we can learn from this last year... I don't have the answer to that, but maybe you have.

Keep in mind: APES DON'T FIGHT APES! We have to listen to each other. We have to think together and we have fight together. And when we finally arrive at our destiny, we will create a future that is worth fighting for today.
