GMErica will be a metaverse mall, with digital and real items. Imagine instead of scrolling Netflix, your character enters a Blockbuster, and can pick up and look at VHS tapes. Then you check out, and now you can watch it. Or, you walk through Sears looking at clothes, then when you find what you like, you order it and it shows up next day. And of course, GameStop. You walk in and can browse games or other merchandise. Pay for your game at the register and start playing.
