Price goes up. Price goes down. Doesn't matter to me. I've been making automatic payments since last January and every two weeks I buy more shares. I don't even know how many shares I have at this point just that it's in the mid XXX range. Yes I've DRS'd all of them and buy through Computershare.

I've never posted before I only lurk but I felt the need to say this. I haven't sold a single share. I've bought all year long. I use GME like a savings account and I'm never selling until it's life-changing money.

That's all I wanted to say.

Buy. Hodl. DRS.
