This may be the most important link at your disposal right now. It is the Library of the ape's journey. Your journey. It contains everything that diamonds the hand and Zens the spirit. It will guide you if reddit goes dark.

Copy/paste this link in a folder. If you can swing it, print it out.

tadr; Even if you don't want wrinkles, you're gonna wish you had this when the rocket takes off and the DDoS attacks begin. Think, ape, think! ■■■■■

Edit 1: if anyone need thanking, all credit goes to the person who compiled the articles, u/zedinstead

Edit 2: People are seeding the content to torrent in the comments. Using uTorrent on my phone, it took about 15min. Link courtesy of u/iwillfightyou. If you're uncomfortable with that, and you have every right to be, you can download the files individually from PC.

For the sake of self-preservation, I don't condone clicking things that you can't tell where they take you. For that, I hate that I legally have to say I do not claim responsibility for what happens. Cyber security is an important lesson taught from the readings of the library.
