It seems like post TWTR bid, Tesla and GME have similar trends.

Compare them to other stocks in the meme stock basket or to the market as a whole. Yes, there are still similarities, but seem to be slightly stronger correlations between the 2.

The point of me bringing this up? It seems like the shorts on the other side of the GME trade have another enemy to handle as they try to lower Teslas market cap to interrupt the financing for the TWTR purchase.

Just some thoughts I was having in regards to the recent price action.
