I'm smooth brained, but it looks to me like gme pre market volume is down a lot today (March 24) compared to yesterday (what I'm seeing on Nasdaq, so could be me misreading, or GIGO). Seems this is knocking the price down from our tasty 141 finish yesterday.

Once again we are left wondering: why volume?

Did RC's buy-in via lit market trigger some mechanism we don't know about yet? Was it a trap for hedgies, to show something to the DOJ?
