Clinging all over the top comment like a cheap suit to state the following napkin math....

Amazon

- The public free float for amazon is 441.05 million
- 19,757,275 amazon shares were traded this week
- Which works out to 4.485% of the public float

GME

- The public free float for GME is 62.99 million
- However we know that 10 million is being diamond handed in Computershare so really the public tradeable float is 52.99 million
- 74,522,937 gme shares were traded this week
- Which works out to 140.64% of the public float
