I made a GME purchase through Computershare for the first time. I tried activating my account online using the security questions, but was locked out when it asked me "which of the following companies have you worked for" which I responded "none of the above", which was true... It said my answer was incorrect. Apparently now I have to wait for them to mail me a code in the snail mail to even see my shares and cost basis? Anyone know how long this will take? Or is there anything I can do to get access sooner? I'm a bit frustrated as it was quite a large buy I made and I would like access. Any help is appreciated.
