If y'all didn't watch this, u should! 3 hours of sheer education

U should pause rewatch and take note of all the names though out history, they highlight keys points in what's been taught through the educational system

History of how "the money masters" have been at war against ppl since jesus. Yes since jesus! Take note along the timeline as how each iteration of war was brought on by the MM against the mass to continually attempt to gain the upper hand an fleece the general public.

It dawned upon me that most of if not all the narrative of history is skewed, all a veil in aim of misdirection. Abraham Lincoln was not for or against slavery but to save the union knowing that much of the economy of the time depended on it. Sounds fkd up I kno. Just as rage against the machine in "killing in the name of" depicts, "those who died r justified for wearin the badge they're the chosen whites". All misdirected hate an anger funneled to a cause, they wouldntve chosen if they were aware.

I was always the fk u I won't do what u tell me motherfkr so this all clicks heavily

I raise this post to make a statement in terms of this movie. Somewhere around the 30 min mark we find ourselves hearing of the US printing its on money called colonial script, money not based on debt issued in proper proportions to the demands of trade and industry to make the products pass easily from the producers to the consumers with no interest to pay to anyone.

It worked w out fail an amounted to great prosperity but the central Bank of England couldn't have that an began to pass a law demanding payment in the form of gold an sliver and disallowing the continual creation an use of the colonial script plunging the nation into depression leading to the revolutionary war. The colonists would've rather payed a mere small tax on imports which leads me to believe if the citizens were taxed at al it would've been nothing like we see today bringing me to the reason for this post.

We as the public should NOT be paying taxes as we do today. If ur not already aware those tax dollars r being used to fund the most nefarious of actions, illegally ill morally robbing all behind the veil

They; the composite, man wants us to beat each other up for his own gain. Create war to sell us war, bankrupt us through war, play both side of the war, profit off of our war all while taking our elders who've come before and possess the most knowledge applicable to our continuation understanding an prosperity. U should value ur elders who've passed on to u whom r a repository of information lost upon death. Our elders r very valuable and if this current "pandemic" has taught me anything it's that it's getting easier for them to do so. Let's not let this stand.

Don't let them engross all the wealth power and influence of the state
