

Title: Does 741 kills the Hedgies? We don't need to move it all over to the Marketplace, just half should do it for now. And how does Friday sound?

Maybe this has been suggested. Or maybe I am going crazy but as I discussed the split with friends today, along with a post I made earlier, I came up with this moon launcher:

7/11/22 - RC tweets "whoops"

10 days later is 7/21/22, just enough time to tell the SEC they are also going to issue 1 NFT token for every share - post split.

"whoops" he forgot to tell us because he doesn't need to tell us but wanted to. They didn't need to tell us the splividend would occur on 7/21/22 either.

But they did and we can assume why.

For (4) your 1 share you'll receive 7 more. 7-4(for)-1

Half of GME's value would now be in stock shares (which is not true because of fuckery) and 50% in tokens which is a real number.

I don't have enough wrinkles or time to put the rest together but I think 50% of the company value being moved into REAL tokens is a major issue for anyone short shares.

I think my tits are jacked but im mostly big boned. ■■■■■■
