I have finally gotten my IRA to a company I trust more than fudality.

My question is, once it all settled and I call to DRS, and this company sends them to Computershare. They're now the custodian, what does that exactly mean?

Can someone send me a link. Or answer some questions:

1.) Will my shares show up in their account or on my Computershare account?

2.) Once GME has grown enough to my liking to have made sure the hedgies and all the corrupt people feel the pain and then some, IF I sell, do I also do this on Computershare? And will those liquid funds be on Computershare or in the other account?

Thank you fellow apes!
