I got $800 bought last winter in GME and I like the stock. $172 a share for 5 shares.

I believe in the stock and only really want to sell if it's life changing money which would be $5,000 a stock, but I would sell at $1,000 a stock since that is quite the increase.

I could take profits for a few percentage right now at $180? I could double my money at $300 but the money I spent is gone and I have wrote it off as gone gone.

So why not hold until it's life changing money if I can hold until it's less in taxes to sell for a 2% or 10% profit etc sometime in the future?

I have no more money to put towards anything like this and have been letting it ride

I'm HOLDING because I LIKE THE STOCK

EDIT: $750,000 per stock is THE NUMBER

edit: PRICE WENT UP TO WALL STREET MUST TRADE ALL THEIR ASSETS
