Relatively new ape here....

When I was buying GME shares directly through CS, I apparently created multiple accounts each time I purchased shares. Now I have 3 separate account numbers all for the same stock. I've since figured out the error of my ways...

Can these be combined into one account? I've read that you can write and mail it in, but is there an easier/faster way? Is it something that can be done over the phone or via the transfer wizard?
