My understanding of DRS is that it'll take a few days or longer to sell the stock. When the GME MOASS hits, it won't last very long - will everyone holding DRS shares miss out on the gains? If anything, the DRS shares could hold the price high long enough for EVERYONE ELSE to get out with a massive profit.

I get the allure of DRSing GME, but I think it ends up screwing you when it's time to take the profits.
