

Title: Did they (etrade and friends) just steal my ITM options? Is this how they cover at the end of the day? Etrade sold 5 of my Feb 25 ITM options (116$), 20min before close. Has that happened to anybody else as well?

I'm not meaning to spread fud... I'm really upset right now. because this just doesn't feel right.

But then again, I have never held on to ITM options until the last day and minute. I did not have the cash for exercising in my account, so maybe this is why. Still, to auto-sell 20 min before close at market price seems odd, especially when you look at the timing with the last price drop.

Also, I'm about to switch brokers since etrade let me know that they don't support my european address anymore. After today I'm glad I'm leaving. Most of my GME shares are with Computershare.
