Hello. Hear me out. Im none of those greenwashed freaks out there, but ive got an issue. As i love my Company and everything they offer i had to buy in on their 50% off sale. So i bought quite a few items and received a part of it already. But im still waiting for other stuff and thats very acceptable. My Problem is, it will be my third package from one order. I mean there is no need for that much packages. Just put everything in a Single one. Less trash, less traffic, less shipment costs to gamestop. Less cost per order means more revenue. Is it just me or should this be something we might claim through Support? Give me your opinion.

Also buy, hold, drs and shop!
