Context: used rh originally, transferred all to fudality and then computershare. Had fractional share (.007818 lol) and a few other holdings in rh. Haven't used rh in a year and a half, haven't logged in, haven't opened it.

I got an email at 8:09 this morning from rh saying I had an account deficit. I got another email at 11:03 saying that my sell order of a fractional share of gme was sold. What gives? Is this happening to anyone else? Is rh trying to scrape up whatever they can get their hands on?

I can provide screenshots if necessary.
