Apes - I ordered some GME shares last Tuesday via directstock with Computershare - a couple of thousand dollars worth - it's been almost week and still no purchase - it says "awaiting price" - anyone know what is going on?

I did have some issues with Computershare as I am a non-US resident - but I can't see how that is connected with "awaiting price" - seems a different issue...

Funds are coming from a US bank account, so this is not problem. Just want to load up the rocket before the big rocket ship takes off, you dig?
