I have some thoughts on all the above.

Firstnd DRS

To me as a believer in DRS, it seems that before this thing will pop off, it will be after the float is locked. I don't think with all the speculation about pulling from the DTCC, new stock market and everything that anything will happen before 101% locked. Looking back at all the tweets from our beloved ■man and DFV, they have been telling us to register "FOR A YEAR". It's our fault that we aren't locked up yet and this is dragging.

Secondrd Legal protection

In order to make everything that is going to happen and be legal then we have to have at least the float registered for legal purposes. Imagine how long shady individuals, SEC and elites could drag it out if wrong doing is not 100% proven. They could freeze payments and drag it out if we don't 101% prove nefarious doings.

Thirdst Earnings Call

It's my speculation that this earnings call will be the same format as the last. June looks to be when shit gets real. We are significantly on our way to locking the float. Hopefully we are in the 15-20 million range on this call.

Mayoman knows the progress we are making as I'm sure he has insight from DTCC. Funny how the narrative of going public and dumping his bag on investors is becoming more prevalent.

TLDR- Nothing happens until the float is locked! GLTA
