I'm just talking crap, but I believe the reason they won't lower GME to hell, aside spilling the beans even more if the control in the market, is because it would mean it becomes accessible to the poorer folks. That's why they turned off the buy button when it crashed. Cause they knew people would blow everything(myself included) to buy as many shares as possible at the 40 it went down to!

Have a blessed day. Stay strong apes ■■■■
