I understand:

* XRT is an ETF that contains GME.

* Quarterly options for XRT expire the 3rd Friday of: Mar/June/Sept/Dec.

I don't understand:

* How are the SHF utilizing XRT such that it influences the price of GME?

* What is the significance of T+2 of the quarterly options expiration dates (the next being 6/21/22)?

* Were the SHF using a different ETF last year (what ETF?) And did this have a different cycle?

* Why use XRT when other ETF's have more GME shares - is it because of the options liquidity?
