

Title: Is the SLD DD confused with FTDs from JAJ0 options cycle? Where is the proof that GME has an options FMAN cycle?

GME is JAJ0

It's not FMAN because in January 2021, the options chain is missing May and August. It's also currently missing August.

It's not MJSD because in January 2021, the options chain is missing March and June. 2022 can't be used to rule this out so we have to look to last year.

I think the movement you're seeing is actually due to the FTD cycle caused by JAJ0 making it seem like FMAN is the cycle.

For further details, check the tables at the bottom of this page: <https://www.optionseducation.org/referencelibrary/faq/leaps-and-expiration-cycles>

Edit: u/leenixus I just noticed that end part about not participating in comments and turning off PMs.
