EDIT: ■■ We're LIVE!! Bring the questions - we're here for it!

EDIT II: And we're DONE. A tight 1 hr. Thanks to everyone who participated. It's given us a lot to think about and hopefully we've managed to answer some of your questions. Keep an eye out for our next AMA!

As part of our commitment to transparency, honesty and integrity we want to include you - our community of supporters - as we progress step by step, brick by brick. ■ To do this we will build The Terminal in the open by providing you consistent, regular, and public updates.

We must live and embody our principles if they are to mean anything.

The Terminal Team is going to begin hosting a weekly AMA hour where u/dlauer, u/marketmicrostructure, myself - and others from the growing team - will be available to talk about progress, approach and plans ... but also, really, anything on your mind.

So whether you have a question on market structure, want to focus on The Terminal, or just want to get a good conversation going - we're here for it.

Put your questions together, and drop them in the comments below - and let a friend know - and we'll circle up next Wednesday, Sept. 29 @ 12:30 pm to discuss. See you there.

Let's Go! ■■■
