I. Pluto return analysis.

II. GME chart analysis.

III. Correlation and what this means.

DISCLAIMER- I'm aware many people don't view astrology or things alike as valid or believable, this is just a look into the correlations and synchronicities between planetary events and GME. Take it as you will. :)

I. Pluto return analysis.

An astrological return is the instance where on heavenly/ planetary body returns to its position in a birth chart where that given chart began. In this case, Pluto is that heavenly body. A Pluto return happens approximately every 250 years. Astrologically, Pluto controls radical change and transformation. Pluto returns are said to be a call of freedom, gives power to the underdogs, and brings what is hidden to the surface.

The last Pluto return in the USA was July 4, 1776. A notable day for the fact it is our Independence Day. In the pursuit of freedom, the US gained independence from oppressing nations. This is telling information to keep in mind. Another notable Pluto return was in the years 218-220 AD, around the same era the Roman empire fell.

This modern Pluto return in the US is set to happen on Tuesday, February 22, 2022. 2/22/2022 or "Twosday" if you will, holds extremely valuable numeric correlation to the Pluto return. In numerology, the "222" sequence has a spiritual meaning, "222 is cooperation and harmony. An angel whispers 222 in your ear and affirms your path and requests of you to stay true in your light. Trust in your process. You are exactly where you need to be." It is seen as a message for hope, which homes in on the emphasis of "power to the people" in a Pluto return. This return signifies burning away falsehoods, bring truth and change, and end the struggle with domination. Pluto return of 2022 is majorly affecting the US in its financial sector, these too large institutions will soon collapse on themselves.

II. GME Chart Analysis

(Data used to curate this chart comes from the "sneeze" in early 2021, 01/27/2021 at 9:30am, Manhattan.) After analyzing the GME birth chart here are some notable pieces. GME has a Pluto in Capricorn, this signifies the tearing down of what no longer serves purpose or is corrupt in its authority. Major change in policy and institutions is seen in this placement, as well as the recognizing of where tradition has failed us. The sun in GME's chart is in Aquarius. Aquarius being a radical sign, is a sign of activism in this community. GME's Mars is placed in Taurus. Taurus is a slower, more relaxed placement, which explains why the time between the sneeze and the squeeze is so long. Taurus isn't going to rush this financial revolution, it will let this play on its own pace. Having another Aquarius placement in Saturn, places a major conjunction between the Mars and Saturn placements, telling us to be patient, this is inevitable.

III. Correlation

Now that the planetary and spiritual elements of the two have been noted, how does this all tie in? Pluto's return in the US this year happens in a very trying and, evil time in our country's history. One element of the struggles of many Americans is finance, we must pay to live. Under propaganda, we were warped into believing this is some kind of "American Dream" to live and work in this country. Only very recently has the majority figured out we are being manipulated by our economy. Our money goes to people who quite frankly don't need it, goes to institutions where people get exploited daily.

Wall Street, always at the forefront of corrupting the US economy, should be shaking in their boots. It's unfortunate for them that this return is happening now because every illegal, corrupt, and unethical decision they've made regarding the market will be exposed with this squeeze. The planetary alignments are like a clock, telling these institutions, "Times up, keel over." Another thing to keep in mind is that, on average, and empire only lasts 250 years, since our last return on 07/04/1776, it will be exactly 245 years, 7 months, 19 days since Independence Day on 2/22/2022. So, keep that in the front of your brain as well, as given everything else going on it's not too crazy to assume this country as we know it is about to undergo extreme systemic change. Other things to watch during this return, January 6th committee, bills in congress (stock positions, climate deals, etc.), trials in police brutality and true crime. Watch all of it, major radical change is coming, the people are aware.

In short, the Pluto return is going to finally take some power from Wall Street, hedge funds, and the upper 1%, and bring it back to the people. Holding GME stock is one way to be a person in the forefront in this revolution but remember advocating and activism on a local level is dire, use your voice, your rights, and your votes. I know it doesn't seem like an individual can do much in times like these, but you can, Pluto brings you the power.

Now all I ask now, is that everyone understands the Pluto return is not a set date, or time for a squeeze to begin, this is just a catalyst, a planetary synchronicity that will help push GME to its full potential. If you haven't DRS, do it before this date, ASAP preferably. Hold your own and stay calm. I am not one of those doomsday astrologers who thinks this event is going to destroy us, its going to destroy these large institutions, who do more than they are capable of. I hope this was interesting enough, and hopefully brings a new way to look at GME and our stock market situation.

To the moon, or to Pluto, if you will! ■

TL:DR- The Pluto return on 2/22/2022 is going to be a major catalyst for the GME short squeeze, and push for change in major institutions across the United States.
