Personally I'm completely convinced that Bill Gates was/is (indirectly) short GME, like he was short Teslie. My source is this interview where he essentially repeats the exact same baseless FUD we've been hearing from MSM since the sneeze while being very obviously emotional about it:

Now assuming for a second that Bill Gates is indeed short GME through his family fund and soon as rekt and fukt as can be + the knowledge that Elon Musk hates shorts and that he thinks SEC stands for a three letter acronym in which the E stands for Elon. Now add to that, that we've seen tons of Tesla and Elon FUD (by SHF bots/shills no doubt) in the GME subs in the past and the fact that SHF where short Tesla and got pretty wrecked after the Tesla short split.

In that light, I find the following Tweets by Elon "interesting" to say the least:

I also like the speculation a lot about the reason for the divorce with Bill's wife (last year after the sneeze) is actually to shield his non-toxic assets from short-GME margin calls by transferring his non-toxic assets into his wife's name and divorcing. That way if margin comes calling for his GME-shorts (still in his name) he personally goes bankrupt but all of his remaining wealth is in his ex-wife's name and can't be touched.

Now if someone could add to that some gossip for the real reason Billy boy is buying up US farm land like crazy, that would jack my tits even more.

TLDR: I wear lots of tin foil every day and I believe I'm seeing more hints of Billy boy Gates having a short interest in GME, just like he had a short interest in Teslie before it popped. I think Billy Boy is about to get rekt (again). Icing on the cake: he knows it.
