Last opportunity to hedge against the crash and even benefit from it!

The financial meltdown just started some days ago as you already know. The markets are still at extremely overvalued and leveraged high levels. This will change very soon.

Now it is the last opportunity to sell shares and bonds as well as most of crypto currencies. There is one exception to this, go long on AMC/GME and crypto currencies backed with AMC/GME. (The reason for being long on AMC/GME will be explained in another post soon)

My own funds are bundled in my investment firm Financial Market Partners Capital (FMPC Consulting AG). Two weeks ago I went short with all of my funds buying put options on market indices worldwide with a strike price below 50% of current values.

After the market has crashed by more than 50% and by then many banks will go into default I will sell the put options. With the capital gains I will buy gold. This tangible gold will be stored in Liechtenstein, the home base of my FMPC Capital investment firm. The stored gold will be the collateral for a new stablecoin which is fully convertible into physical gold stored in Liechtenstein. At this time all market participants will have lost the faith in the existing currencies and trust has to be built up going back to a gold standard. The new stablecoin will be the ground for a start into the new economic world after the "Great Reset"
