I mean their post history is full of anti gme comments. Working 24/7 to spread fud as if investing in gme is worse than what guys on that sub do. literally gambling with weekly options.

Reading the comment history of these shills confirm that we are on the right track or else they wont be wasting their lives hating on us as if we fucked their wives, stole their money and then used it to buy gme. if you arent a shill then why the hell do you care so much about what i am doing with my money. and if you dont like cults and conspiracy theorists then why are you not posting in cult and conspiracy subreddits.

But you know what SHF problem is...FUD is all they have left. There is literally nothing else they can do except hoping they can make apes sell. Even after 1 year they haven't realized that it isnt happening.
