I phoned Computershare's GameStop investors helpline the other week from the U.K. to pay for my verification code to be sent to me quicker so that I could unlock my lovely purple ring as fast as possible and got some great news.

I had a nice chat with the person on the other end of the line and they told me that in the U.K. branch of the GameStop investors helpline, they had 5 people working there full time and they were processing on average around 50 REQUESTS A DAY EACH for people to get either their first letter or verification codes sent through quicker.

5 PEOPLE WORKING THERE!

50 REQUESTS A DAY EACH!

THAT'S 250 REQUESTS A DAY TO EITHER GET THE FIRST LETTER OR VERIFICATION CODE SENT QUICKER!

I'M PROUD OF MY FELLOW U.K. APES!

(Insert some more compulsory rocket, moon and ape emojis with the U.K. flag)
