GameStop Corp. (GME) has announced a 4 for 1 forward stock split on its common stock shares, effective before market open on Monday, July 25th, 2022.

The 4-for-1 forward split means that for every 1 share of GME stock held through the end of the day on Friday July 22nd, 2022, shareholders receive 4 shares of (new) split-adjusted GME shares that following Monday the 25th. This corporate action happens automatically at no additional charge. TD Ameritrade does not charge a fee to process forward stock splits.

GME Options Adjustments:
For options on GME, the number of contracts (calls or puts) increase by four (4) and the strike price adjusts by one fourth (1/4). For example, 1 call option controlling 100 shares with a $100 strike price will become 4 call options controlling a total of 400 shares (still 100 shares per contract) with a new $25 strike price.

To see how the strike price for your specific contracts is affected by this forward split, please visit <https://www.theocc.com/Search>, and search using the keyword "GameStop" for their recent publication on these options adjustments.
