I updated my original post here but thought if this clears up some major tax questions, it might be worthy of a post of its own.

Also mods feel free to change flair as I have no idea what I'm doing here anyway.

Short of jumping into the future and seeing if a 1099 arrives (hey DFV, if you could just do this for me in your time travels, I'll buy you a beer), I thought maybe I could find some sort of evidence that would show whether or not I had created a heaping pile of taxes and penalties for mineself and other apes.

Here's what I found...

... drums rolling ...

I present to you, October's statement!

If I forgot to scratch off something personal, just go ahead, steal my identity and get it over with.

Alrighty then. That's it for me, and-- Buy for now!

But seriously, if you're thinking about DRSing an IRA, there are many ways now. Just run it past a CPA, get confirmation for yourself, and if you don't like Apex that's cool -- please find another custodian who will do this, and for the love of God post it if it works. I personally don't trust any financial institution with my money other than Computershare, but that is mine and my psychotherapists' problem, not yours.

Edit: Chat with Ally to confirm it would have showed up:

Remember apes. Life is too short to worry about taxes or focus too much on your enemies. You are on board a rocket ship right now. Buckle Up and Enjoy the ride. ■■■
