I was thinking about how absolutely ignorant the haters of these “meme stocks” are and I love that they stalk these subs like they’ve got absolutely nothing better to do. So when you see this, suck my soon to be rich cock. Max pain is one of many points that nobody against us can really argue against GME, if we’re so stupid and trading amongst ourselves then why do we continue to finish just shy of max pain week after week. Unfortunately I don’t know what trading tools we’ve used to previously find this and I haven’t seen a max pain post in about two weeks. Is it cause the last heavy options expiration was two weeks ago?
