I think together the Reddit's could do insane things

We're not about stonks. We're about anticapitalism and tearing the whole system down. Please stop shilling stonks or crypto - it's not welcome here.

Exactly! GameStop is going to change the financial system. Billions of dollars are going from hedgefunds to regular people. GameStop is going to restructure not only the entire stock market but the whole financial system and hierarchy.

It's also not a WSB shill because real GME holders have left WSB

GameStop currently is in the process of working with loop ring to restructure the stock market so it's fair for everyday people. Currently the market makers and elites dictate the market.

You keep bringing up 'restructure the stock market' as though you want there to be a stock market. We want to tear the fundamental structure of capitalism apart. Please stop bring up your stonks - next time, it'll be a longer ban.
