Just an FYI - I have successfully tested and DRS, 1 share from IKBR to Computer Share and it took less than 1 week to complete. This isn't financial advice but if you are nervous about the process please don't be. It's so simple and your shares could be the difference! Let's lock the float once and for all.

To transfer shares out of IKBR follow these very simple steps. It takes all of 3 minutes.

Once the transfer shows as complete in IKBR call the UK GME computer share support number (+800 3823 3823) that is the dedicated line for GME requests only. My call was answered within 3 minutes of dialling. I informed them that I had transferred 1 share as a test from IKBR. They checked my name and post code to confirm the share had transferred which it had. The kind lady then told me that because I called up they would send my letter from the UK office meaning that it will be with me in 5 working days and not 5 weeks from the US. Once I have the letter I can then call them back on the same number as above and speed up the process of having an online portal setup to trade my shares as I see fit.

What are you waiting for? It really is that simple.

Edit: As mentioned in the comments (thank you) you can even use Skype if you don't want to incur the charges associated with calling the dedicated GME Computer Share number. Yet another reason to DRS.
