I got on the GME train around April, and have been really excited to be part of this, so i hope my questions arent going to be confused as slander or whatever. But iv been recently trying really hard to avoid any product or company that gives China its support in any way. Iv been finding info that Chewy works with China. And Mr. RC founded Chewy didnt he?

Maybe im misunderstanding whats happening and someone can correct me. I just dont want to support what China is doing in any way, directly or indirectly.
