New apes and investors, welcome to the fun. Using stop losses, however, is no fun for apes and investors, but a lot of fun for SHFs. Why add to their enjoyment? One way to make their job a little more demanding is not using stop losses.

Also, if you register your $GME shares, or if you can buy some through Computershare which are automatically registered, you get a front row seat to the show, that way you don't miss any of the action.
