So I'm transferring my Roth IRA from E Trade to Fidelity.

Not positive what all accounts this applies to but I believe all new accounts are eligible if you do it online or through the app.

Promo Code: FIDELITY100

$100 cash reward if you deposit $50 or more in the first 15 calendar days

Again online or app only it specifically said accounts opened without a rep.

If you do need to talk to someone I used the online chat and it was quick and they are super helpful and will answer any of your questions.

I just received an email confirming my transfer was eligible for this.

Someone may want to check into what accounts qualify but it took me less than 5 minutes to download the app, open an account and enter in everything for the transfer. Fidelity takes care of everything no need to contact E Trade.

For those interested here's my timeline so far

Downloaded App around 2pm yesterday.

Opened the new account.

2:16PM email saying account opened by Fidelity.

Used the chat to ask a few questions about their platform.

Entered transfer request.

Got confirmation immediately that it was processed by Fidelity.

This morning

Email from Fidelity at 5am confirming my transfer request with a link to a tracker.

Tracker shows waiting to be processed by E Trade and has estimated completion date of 11/25

This was immediately available on the app but I like the email confirmation.

2:08pm email saying registration is confirmed and confirming my $100 cash reward AKA free GME

As long as deposit $50 or more in the next 15 calendar days

So far zero correspondence from E Trade. Their probably trying to "locate" my shares.

So not only is it the simplest process ever and $0 charge to transfer but their giving me $100 that personally will go towards another share of my favorite stock!!!
