Greetings ape gaters. Hope everyone is having a good weekend so far. Not going to waste too much time, so I'm just going to get straight into it.

I have been hearing a lot of talk brewing about an Executive Order and how it can affect GME. This actually has my tits considerably jacked because I've been researching this topic for a while now, so it's promising to see more people are becoming aware of what is to come. Much of what I am about to talk about is pertaining to geopolitics, so I won't go deeply in depth, but you'll get the gist.

So what the hell am I talking about?....

EXECUTIVE ORDER 14032

Well, what is Executive Order 14032?

In simplest terms, it's an executive order signed by Biden (Originally by Trump in Nov 2020, back then it was Executive Order 13959) that prohibits US entities from investing in military and surveillance related Chinese companies that support the Chinese military.

That's nice, but what's the big deal, Owt?

Well, funnily enough, many US asset managers like BlackRock, Vanguard, JP Morgan, and many others have SERIOUS exposure to the Chinese companies that are included in the EO. Those Chinese assets are being used as collateral by these US asset managers. In other words, once their billions of dollars in Chinese assets and collateral become worthless, an old friend of mine named Margy will be making a surprise appearance, and she will want her money.

I get it Owt, MM's and other asset management entities are going to lose a lot of money in collateral, but how exactly does that affect GME?

Well, let's look back at November 2020.

In November 2020, Trump signed the original EO titled:

Executive Order 13959 Addressing the Threat From Securities Investments That Finance Communist Chinese Military Companies

This EO basically did what the new amended EO 14032 does, however, at the time that it was implemented, there were far less companies on the sanctioned list.

However, what's important to note is the date. The EO was to take effect on January 28, 2021.

What the hell happened on or around January 28, Owt?

Well.....

GME ATH $483

ATER ATH $48

AMC $20

In short, meme stocks ran HARD. However, they plummeted a few days later.

How come?

Well, Biden extended the EO and gave the fucks more time to gather themselves from getting obliterated (RIP Melvin Capital).

Biden ended up extending the EO a few days later to May 27th, 2021.

Pretty nice of him right? So What happened when May 27th came around?

lol....

GME $344

ATER $21

AMC ATH $72

Memes did what memes do when marge calls. However, Biden once again EXTENDED the EO a few days later.

Now look, coincidences happen, I won't deny that. However, for some reason, these sanctions love forcing meme stock runs and fucking shorts.

Sanctions fucking shorts

Now, what's next?

As I stated above, we now have EO 14032 coming up.

When?...

June 3rd, 2022 baby

With EO 14032, there are 70+ companies that have been added to list of sanctioned companies, larger than the amount that were sanctioned in EO 13959.

Now, I'm just going to end off with what's got ME jacked.

**THIS IS NFA****

However, I have strong conviction that this thing is about to moon to glory in the next month and a half.
