AY! YI YII? YI! YI!!!!YI = xiaomi yi / yi technologies.

Yi technologies was Originally funded and backed by Xiaomi.

Whos Xiaomi?

https://market.us/statistics/smartphone-brands/xiaomi-corporation/ states :

Laptops and Phones and Xaomi YI Cam. They used to be the same company until they split Xaomi Yi into Yi Technologies in 2016. Directly before the google partnership in 2017 to start creating android phones. Oh hey so it connects to google. Duly noted. Interesting is they were launching android firmware by 2010 and phones in 2011.

Yi And Xiaomi both have partnerships with google and facebook. It is know as the "apple" of china.

Xao - little , Mi = rice. Wat else goes with liittle rice?

apparently Artificial Intelligence. https://www.androidauthority.com/xiaomi-virtual-assistant-851500/

That article shows quite a bit about how the language barrier is the main AI drawback. TL:DR from that site itself :

https://www.techgenyz.com/2020/11/25/xiaomis-xiao-ai-5-0-everything-you-need-to-know/ says a LOT. One of the more important sectors shows the abilities of this AI.

I found this by Noticing a pattern to be honest. I was doing an update to my L-bond video to show an updated post on scion portfolio holdings this morning,

When looking up <https://fintel.io/so/us/vygg.ws> , One of Dr. Burry's Scion asset management positions.

I had no idea the stupid ass links i would find while researching this:

I tweeted about a post that covered the VYGG + reddit merger. One of the board members seems VERY relevant. (shoutout to u/Long-Term-Owner for his cleanly laced DD)

Hugo Barra - VYGG Board Member - Experience with expanding technology companies userbase internationally (Xiaomi). VP of VR at Facebook.

oh. DIRECT xiaomi and FB connections outside of the partnership. Thats neat. Let's look at some other important names from that post.

Board of Directors

 Alexander Tamas \- Co-founder & CEO at Vy Capital, Chairman at Vy Global Growth - Social media and internet business expert. Led a 500M fundraising round on Reddit on February 8th valuing Reddit at 6B. Invested in Facebook at a 10B valuation in 2009. Invested in Twitter at a 8B valuation in 2011.

 John Hering \- Founding Partner at Vy Capital, CEO at Vy Global Growth - Cyber security expert. Experience scaling online platforms to millions of users. Strong aversion to the misuse of data. Co-founder of Coalition (Cybersecurity Insurance business) valued at 1.75B. Founder of Lookout (Cybersecurity company which protects over 175M devices globally) last valued at 1B in 2015. Currently invested in Reddit.

 Daniel Schwarz \- COO at Vy Capital, COO at Vy Global Growth - Currently invested in Reddit.

 Katja Lake \- CFO and head of Investor Relations at Vy Capital, CFO at Vy Global Growth - Currently invested in Reddit.

 Hugo Barra \- Board Member at VYGG - Experience with expanding technology companies userbase internationally (Xiaomi). VP of VR at Facebook. Scaled Android OS to more than a billion users.

 Justin Kan \- VYGG Board Member - Founder of Twitch.tv. Social media expert. Scaled Twitch.tv to more than 200 million users. Friends with Steve Huffman for over 15 years. Was in the first Y-combinator round along with Steve Huffman. Currently invested in Reddit.

 Steve Huffman \- Founder & CEO of Reddit - Publicly stated his intention to take Reddit public. Publicly stated he wanted to give Reddit users the opportunity to own a piece of the business. Currently invested in Reddit.

Vy Capital's Investment and Operations Team

 Vamsi Duvvuri - Managing Director at Vy Capital, Head of Vy Capital's emerging market investments. Currently invested in Reddit.

 James Burgess - CTO at Vy Capital - Previously CIO at Lookout. Currently invested in Reddit.

* Pablo Mendoza - VP at Vy Capital. - Currently invested in Reddit.

So we have direct Reddit > Xiaomi + FB > Twitch.tv](https://twitch.tv/) connections in the background of this merger, who all seem invested into the merger itself. Seems they have conflicts of interest with national interests when considering the "nerd notes" at the end of this post.

Now. Xiao = Little , Mi = Rice.

What else goes with Xiaomi? Kuaizi, which is "chopsticks" in simple Chinese. Chopsticks. and little rice. isn't that shit cute?.

Kuaizi Technology and Quick Decision Technology are founded by the same person, Shaohui Li. Here is her resume from linked in.

<https://preview.redd.it/tp9umbrc19u71.png?width=584&format=png&auto=webp&s=50ea0166d1c9b6f7d7ca9ee627ada44ebccb636>

Please notice that she is also on the Alumni for Proctor & Gamble because of the Olympic commercial thing they did. Just to note the following person is the other co founder of kuaizi.

<https://preview.redd.it/4mf3i2ed19u71.png?width=484&format=png&auto=webp&s=1b204f9dc183a855dfd18aeacd2e3ab16f3f9b97>

That would be 4 chinese companies that are partnered with google and facebook so far in the AI and VR sector.... xiaomi , yi technologies, kuaizi, and quick decision. A lot of corroborating evidence can be found here can be found here Where i posted a day or two ago about chopsticks and google AI's tweet.

nerd notes

To go over a few more things..

I see Google AI's crossed. or Google crossed the AI's. Ain't sure tbh. Both work from my perspective. Figured I would share this since I thought it was a pretty cool connection. Literally this puts a common threading message from all 3 iron giants. Fuck the market. I like this filings game. ■■■■
