#WeTheInvestors Roadmap and Letter to SEC

Today #WeTheInvestors takes two big steps forward. First, we have put together a vision and roadmap for what we hope this grassroots movement to reform markets can become. It's time take back our markets! Please read it, let us know what you think, and share it as widely as you can.

Second, it's time to let the SEC know who we are and what we care about. The SEC responds to public pressure, and we need to let them know how many investors truly care about these issues. Read and sign our letter to Gary Gensler.

Third, it's time to call Congress! Let your members of Congress know you care about these issues, and they will push the SEC to act. We've made it easy to do it (and don't collect any of your info when you do this).

Please help spread the word, and let's show Washington that individual investors can represent themselves, and are not interested in the status quo that productizes them for the benefit of high-speed trading firms and discount brokers!
