I know ya'll are listening, and I know you think if you push this out long enough you can survive. But I'm a big fan of history, and while that has happened before and you may have experienced it in 08' I'm hear to warn you about what happens when that doesn't work. Traditionally, the longer a city, fortress, or a citadel holds out does not yield great results after, and while you may think this war has just started what you don't realize is that you have set up your stronghold in a country where we grew up fighting guerilla warfare. So, go ahead wriggle free of the grasp attached to your throat. I hope you do realize though, if once again you escape to fight another day; during your prolonged struggle we took the time to lock the door and procured a bat. Now we don't just want you to give up and give us what's ours. Now we are upset and for a different reason, so please give it one more thought before you struggle to continue
