Just making sure we're all voting and why it's important this time around vs. before

Last year many of us were ready to see our fav stonk reach astronomical heights. The Jan sneeze, followed by continuous shorting and pumps until now. Creeping up on 2 years of this nonsense, it's time for hedgies to finally get fuk'd

It's speculation, but look at the current ape army vs 1 year ago. Before it was literally just us retail apes, and Ryan Cohen in the shadows. We knew papa cohen was workin on this but it wasn't enough. Not only did we apes need to see for ourselves how deep and corrupt the us market is, but we got the "regular" people to see what is happening.

Now, I believe RC is saying he's confident in apes, and we're big enough.. but we ALL NEED to take action. If RC wasn't confident in the votes passing in favor, I don't believe he would've filed to even let us vote - at least not yet.

It's time apes. Don't be part of the bystander effect. We're all in this together and we can only win this together #WAGMI

This is not financial advice
